

Black Swan

Black Swans are large birds native to Australia. As their name implies, they have mostly black plumage; their white primary (wing) feathers are most visible when the bird is in flight. The eyes are red, as is the bill, which has white banding. Males and females look alike.

