

Eurasian Jay

The Eurasian Jay can be found in Western Europe, North West Africa and parts of Asia.

There are 33 different subspecies in a wide range of colors and with either black or streaked crowns. All subspecies are overall pinkish-brown and black and have a blue patch on their wing.

